§ 200.321 - Contracting with small and minority businesses, women's business enterprises, and labor surplus area firms.

(a) The non-Federal entity must take all necessary affirmative steps to assure that minority businesses, women's business enterprises, and labor surplus area firms are used when possible.

(b) Affirmative steps must include:

(1) Placing qualified small and minority businesses and women's business enterprises on solicitation lists;

(2) Assuring that small and minority businesses, and women's business enterprises are solicited whenever they are potential sources;

(3) Dividing total requirements, when economically feasible, into smaller tasks or quantities to permit maximum participation by small and minority businesses, and women's business enterprises;

(4) Establishing delivery schedules, where the requirement permits, which encourage participation by small and minority businesses, and women's business enterprises;

(5) Using the services and assistance, as appropriate, of such organizations as the Small Business Administration and the Minority Business Development Agency of the Department of Commerce; and

(6) Requiring the prime contractor, if subcontracts are to be let, to take the affirmative steps listed in paragraphs (b)(1) through (5) of this section.

Six of the top Black-owned construction firms in the United States:

#1 - SLR Contracting & Service Company: Located in Buffalo, New York, SLR Contracting & Service Company, Inc. is a full service commercial, general construction company that was established in 1996 by President and CEO Sundra L. Ryce. The company is a certified, 100 percent Minority and Woman Owned Business Enterprise, (WMBE) and has established a fine reputation for providing complete, high-end, commercial construction services.

#2 - Coleman Construction: This Los Angeles-based construction firm was founded by Sharon Coleman in 1994 and offers a complete range of construction services, including commercial, governmental and institutional projects. Their work also includes private construction projects, non-profit organization construction work, and improvements to tenant properties.

#3 - ENVIRO AgScience, Inc.: This construction company is headquartered in Columbia, South Carolina, with an office in Atlanta. The company provides general contracting services and management, and architectural services, as well as design-build landscaping and consulting services for both domestic and international markets.

#4 - H.J. Russel & Company: This Atlanta, Georgia-based company offers general construction, real estate development, program management and property management services. The company was founded by Herman J. Russell, who took over his father's plastering company in 1957 and developed one of the most successful African-American-owned real estate development and construction companies in America.

#5 - Thor Construction: Thor Construction was founded in 1980 and is headquartered in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Their services include general contracting, design, consulting, and construction management. The global company has a client list that includes partnering in the new Vikings Stadium, expanding the Mandalay Bay Convention Center in Las Vegas, Nevada, and building a 5,000 square foot store for designer Carolina Herrera in Las Vegas.

#6 - Powers & Sons Construction Company: This construction firm was founded in 1967 by Mamon Powers Sr. The family-run business began as a premier home building firm but is now a contractor, construction manager, design builder and project management company. They are headquartered in northwest Indiana with offices in Indianapolis, Indiana, and Chicago, Illinois.

NABWIC is a Florida-based, non-profit organization, formed in 1991 to address the unique challenges of black women in the construction industry. It's mission is to champion and empower black women in construction and related industries to reach their full potential as entrepreneurs, small business owners, government professionals and industry leaders who represent "THE VOICE OF BLACK WOMEN IN CONSTRUCTION".

NABWIC operates under the leadership and direction of it's founder, Mrs. Ann McNeill, and is governed by a national board of directors comprised of women and men small business owners who actively engage in various construction trades and industries.
